Provider Information

Hemodialysis, Inc (Hi) is the educational provider and is approved by the California Board of Registered Nursing (BRN), Provider Number CEP2359. Hi is a end stage renal disease (ESRD) healthcare corporation in Southern California providing full dialysis care and non-emergent medical transportation to about 600 ESRD patients.

Attention Non-Californians

Not all states have a BRN. Almost all states (not all) accept contact hours issued by providers approved by the California BRN. A non-Californian should verify acceptance of these contact hours with their state licensing authority or BRN prior to purchase.

An Educational Growth Product

Many health-care employers use contact hours certification to evaluate their employee's for annual advancement and educational growth.

The Author

Joanne D Pittard MS, RN is the author. The concepts and graphics of this publication are derived from Joanne's training manual Hemodialysis Nursing, Sixth Edition, Version 6.8. This manual was first published in 1987 as an outline of lecture topics and course objectives for the dialysis nursing course Hemodialysis Nursing.

The Course

That course has been taught by Joanne at the community college in Glendale, California since 1975. This is the oldest college level RN program of didactic and practical dialysis teaching in the United States of America.

Blood & Uremia

Blood & Uremia 2000 is a two hundred and seven (207) page monograph[‡] developed and written for all health-care workers.

Monograph Highlights:

- Composition and functions of blood
- Erythropoiesis
- Causes and correction of anemia
- Dx and treatment of iron deficiency
- Epoetin therapy
- Erythrocytosis
- Anticoagulation therapy
- Heparin, use and abuse
- Oral anticoagulants and tests
- Over 435 special definitions
- Over 78 illustrations, formulas, and tables

Electronic Study Aid & Reference

The monograph is packed with facts, concepts, and data. After reading the book, a 60 question test needs to be submitted to us to obtain the contact hours certificate.

As a reference and unique study aid, you may purchase a CD-ROM containing an electronic, searchable, hyper-linked duplicate of the book containing (unlike the book) full-color graphics and graphs. This file is compiled for a Windows™ 95, 98, or NT 4.0 computer. A Macintosh CD-ROM is available with special surcharge, by request. This file is view-only and can not be printed. The CD-ROM is available at this price with simultaneous purchase of the monograph with this order.

[‡] Monograph n. A scholarly writing or essay on a specific subject.

Earn 30 Contact Hours of Continuing Education

The contact hours will be awarded by Hemodialysis, Inc. in four (4) weeks or less after receipt of the post test and registration form. If you fail the test, you may submit another answer form within thirty (30) days with no surcharge.

Publisher Information

This monograph is published by Hemodialysis, Inc (Hi). Hi's principle missions are to provide excellence in patient care and to provide and foster quality education for ESRD personnel.
